From the President:

WAHI NEEDS YOU - CALLING ALL VOLUNTEERS!

WAHI has always been a volunteer association, with many people giving their time and energy to help run the Board of Directors, the chapters, and the state committees. Those of us who put in many hours to make WAHI work are grateful to everyone who contributes. But WAHI could really use your help too. Simply put, you are needed. You have unique talents and skills that are essential to help WAHI be the best it can be. We are begging for you to be involved and volunteer, now, and in the future.

Yup, this is a Pep Rally! We need you! (What I'd really like here is the old WWI and WWII recruitment poster, with Uncle Sam pointing at the viewer very seriously: I want you!)

Why do we volunteer?

I ask myself that constantly. Why do people decide they want to spend their valuable time helping others? Why should you help others develop skills and gain experience needed? Why would anyone in business want to help their competition get better at their profession?

PRESIDENT

Ok, so why do we really volunteer?

Because we are Americans. We have a pride to be the best we can be. We want our society, our profession to be the best it can be. To be able to brag, to show how awesome we really are. And rightfully so!

I have taught Continuing Education courses at Waukesha County Technical College, and been a speaker at many meetings and seminars over many years. Both of my parents were college professors. Both of my brothers were teachers, educators, and have college degrees. While I like to on occasion (OK, many times) make fun of the education process and enjoy giving my family grief, I find that, much to my chagrin, I have followed in their footsteps. I have no college degree. I'm self taught in most of my inspection experience, yet I constantly seek the need for knowledge, experience and education. How would I get this without others in our industry volunteering their time, knowledge and experiences for me to learn by? I couldn't. That is why I volunteer, and get involved.

On top of this educational need, we as an association have the need for people in WAHI to help in other leadership roles. We need involvement in multiple committees, including Education, Elections, Arbitration, Membership, Public Relations, and Bylaws.

How I wish I had the energy and pep of my youth - the never-ending need to be involved, work from dawn to dusk, have fun and never regret what I did! Reality is, none of us have any of this anymore. But, you are a professional, and you now know the need we have at WAHI for your help, and all it takes is a few hours a month for you to help and be a LEADER in your industry. Please help us and volunteer.

Contact either Julie Arnstein or myself, or the committee leader listed on the WAHI website, and thank you! If you have any remaining doubts about the benefits of volunteering, read on!

Why you should volunteer for a WAHI Leadership Position:

You're a professional, and you know you can help the association.

You believe in being the best in the industry, the best you can be.

Volunteering gets you exposure in the public eye.

It builds business and professionalism—both personally and for WAHI.

You can advertise your involvement in WAHI to clients, realtors, and other professionals.

It builds your resume!

New referrals will come your way!

You will build professional connections—contractors and professionals you can network with.

Your peers will respect your involvement!

MOST IMPORTANT, YOU WILL FEEL PRIDE IN BEING THE BEST YOU CAN BE!

Original poster artwork, J.M. Flagg, 1917

Thank you for your participation!
Kent Schwanke, WAHI State President

LOBBYING UPDATE

New Continuing Education Rule in Effect September 1

By Kathi Kilgore
of Swandby/Kilgore Associates, Inc.

As you have read in past columns and heard about at WAHI meetings, the Department of Safety & Professional Services (DSPS) has finished its work on an administrative rule pertaining to how continuing education credits can be earned. This rule has received final approval and went into effect on September 1, 2014. The changes contained in the rule were the result of the 2013 DSPS audit. The old CE rule was very broad, but the new CE rule is more specific, giving details on how CE credit hours can (and cannot) be obtained and what constitutes a continuing education training program.

WAHI gave input in the first draft of the rule and was successful in convincing DSPS to remove language from the rule proposal that would have limited the number of CE credit hours that home inspectors could count from attending “technical or professional society meetings.” Therefore, the educational program of WAHI chapter meetings and seminars CAN BE counted toward CE credit hours and the number of credit hours earned from attending these WAHI training programs is NOT limited. 50 minutes of actual instruction time is equivalent to one CE credit hour.

WAHI was also able to get clarification in the new rule; while it is prohibited to receive CE credit hours for teaching or attending identical CE training programs, home inspectors are not prohibited from receiving CE credit hours for teaching or attending training programs on the same general subject. For example, a general subject like “foundations” or “heating” may be discussed in a seminar or educational program at a chapter meeting, but there are a number of possible topic areas under each subject that can be counted individually toward the CE credit hour requirement. For example, if a home inspector attends a training program about inspecting “forced air heating systems” and then attends a training program about “geothermal heating systems,” both programs can be counted for CE credit hours. Make sure you are recording the titles or subjects of training programs accurately and with as much detail as possible.

The new CE rule also codifies the law which went into effect in late January 2014 that changed the continuing education requirement from 20 hours per year to 40 hours every two years.

Please review the new Chapter SPS 131, Subchapter V to understand the changes that have been made. If you have questions or concerns, please feel free to contact me at 608.286.9599 or at Kilgore@swandby.com.

Please see page 8 for the complete Chapter SPS 131, Subchapter V - Continuing Education Requirements.

CONTINUING EDUCATION CHANGES

Continuing education credit hours may not apply to more than one biennium.

(5) A registrant may only receive credit for the initial attendance of a continuing education training program during a biennium. A registrant may not receive additional continuing education credit hours for repeated attendance at a continuing education training program during a biennium.

(6) A registrant may not receive continuing education credit hours for work completed as part of the registrant's regular duties as a home inspector.

(1) A renewal applicant who is actively practicing in the profession and is unable to fully comply with the continuing education requirements due to temporary, extreme hardship, as determined by the department, may submit a written request for a waiver or a written request for an extension of time to complete the continuing education requirements. The department will review the request, and in its sole discretion may grant a full or partial waiver, or an extension of time to comply with the requirements.

(2) A renewal applicant who prior to the expiration date of the registration submits a request for a waiver and provides a written statement setting forth the basis for the request, shall be deemed to be in good standing until the final decision on the request is made by the department. If the waiver is denied and the registration has expired, the applicant shall immediately discontinue engaging in the practice of home inspection until the applicant meets the requirements of s. SPS 131.41 and submits evidence of compliance to the department.

(3) A renewal applicant may not receive a waiver under this section for 2 consecutive biennia.

KID YOU NOT

A pipe burst in a doctor's house. He called a plumber. The plumber arrived, unpacked his tools, did mysterious plumber things for a while and handed the doctor a bill for $600. The doctor was furious and exclaimed, "This is ridiculous! I don't even make that much as a doctor!" The plumber patiently waited for him to finish and then replied, "Neither did I when I was a doctor."

Q: "Is it OK to use caulk on a masonry brick house that has metal lintels above the windows and doors?"

A: NO. The worst thing you can do with a piece of metal in a masonry wall is to trap moisture in it by using caulk; it will prematurely rust/fail. If gaps or separations occur in the mortar where these lintels are, they should be tuckpointed with mortar, not caulk. Using mortar will allow the exterior moisture/water to travel through it and out from the lintel.

Wausau Homes Tour and Education House

Friday, October 24, 2014

This educational afternoon is comprised of two parts – a tour of the Wausau Homes plant in Wausau, followed by inspection training at our WAHI Education House. WAHI has obtained the use of a home in the Wausau area for this program.

Friday afternoon's training will be limited to the first 40 registrants and is worth four continuing education credits.

Wausau Homes Tour

Join us for this great opportunity to tour this longtime home building company. Learn about the innovations and challenges of their construction style and techniques. See how home construction at Wausau Homes may differ today from earlier designs/methods. Our education provider and tour guide will share the process from start to finish - design, construction, warranties, transportation. This training will be from noon to 2:00 pm. In addition to hosting this great training opportunity – they're providing lunch too!

Education House

Experienced experts will be posted throughout the WAHI Education House in numerous locations. Each expert will provide 30 to 45 minute presentations on how to inspect various components, focusing on the WI Standards of Practice. Participants will rotate to each area/presenter. The training will be from 3:00 pm to 5:00 pm.

Tour and Education House - $75.00 (WAHI Members), $105.00 (Nonmembers)

All participants are asked to preregister as space is limited.
